

Buy, Sell & Trade

Setting up shop from the back of a truck has become a tradition with collectors of decoys and waterfowling collectibles. It started as an adjunct to early decoy contests and now has a faithful following. Vendors not only sell to the public but, perhaps more importantly, buy, sell and trade with each other. It provides a social atmosphere for the public and participants to learn more about this addictive pursuit – collecting old decoys.

